Translation and Interpreting: bridging the gap between the classroom and the profession

Padova (Italy), 7-8 April, 2022

Call for papers

On the occasion of its 800 anniversary, the University of Padova will hold the first Arqus International Symposium on Translation and Interpreting Studies. This symposium aims to be a small forum for researchers in Translation and Interpreting from the member universities of the Arqus European Alliance. After working online for almost two years due to the Covid19 pandemic for the design and implementation of a multiple degree in Translation Studies (forthcoming), the symposium will offer the opportunity to meet in person and exchange opinions and research interests.

The symposium will be open to researchers from the member universities of the Arqus European Alliance only. Languages of the symposium will be French, Italian, Spanish and English. It will combine keynote lectures and panel sessions organised around the topic of 'Translation and Interpreting: bridging the gap between the classroom and the profession'. Contributions on the following topics are welcome:

1. Conference Interpreting.
2. Public Services Interpreting.
3. Legal Translation.
4. Certified and Sworn Translation.
5. Specialised Translation.
